

HUMANITIES TEACHER

Harmony Academy, Oregon's first school for adolescents in recovery from substance use disorders, seeks a skilled and passionate teacher to join our amazing staff. Harmony's innovative program is youth-centered, and our team is collaborative, mission-focused, and supportive. Teachers enjoy small class sizes and a collegial environment, as they help formerly disengaged youth find success in a public-school program that integrates recovery and education into community. Harmony Academy has open enrollment throughout the year, and a small population of unique students from all over the tri-county Portland area. Our mission is to provide a safe, sober, and supportive education for these youth in their early recovery, where they can develop the skills and strengths needed for personal, academic, vocational and community success. It's an exciting journey.

We are currently seeking a Humanities Teacher. The successful candidate will teach English Language Arts and Social Studies classes. Teachers must be licensed, but under ORS 338 do not need to be endorsed in every subject(s) they teach. There is also freedom to teach electives. We are especially interested in someone to teach the popular Cultural Literacy elective.

Minimum Requirements

- Current TSPC license,
- Subject area expertise,
- At least two years of full-time classroom teaching,
- Experience working with marginalized or underserved youth

Application Process

Send a resume and a cover letter stating clearly why you want to teach at a recovery high school to harmony.academy.careers@gmail.com

Salary and Benefits

Benefits of the position include medical, dental, and vision insurance, term life/accidental death and short-term disability insurance, employee assistance, paid time off, PERS contributions and the option to contribute to a 403b retirement fund.

The salary range for this position is $52,000-$64,000 DOE.
